Tae Old Slave Trade.

It surprises us, on recurring to the past, to learn how recently the odious traffic, which now excites so much hor ror at its contemplation, has been suppressed. It is scarcely fifty years since it was prosecuted with the utmost activity and vigor. From 1804 to 1807 there were imported into the little town of Bristoi, Rhode Island-a seaport that did not contain a population of 2000more than 1000 slaves annually. The whole number imported within the period was 3,914, all from the coast of Af rica. During the same time there were brought into Newport, a town within 12 miles of Bristol, in the same State, and now the famous and attractive watering place, 3488 slaves. Providence in the same State, received 559. Hartford, Courier says great excitement was caused Conn., 250, and Boston, 200, in the same at Attica, in Fountain county, on Monyears. The slaves brought into Rhode day, by the arrest and trial of two horse Island, were but a small portion of the thieves, by the names of George Nelson number her citizens were taking from and James Martin; the latter had been the coast of Africa directly to the West ferryman at Williamsport on the Wabash-Indies and into the ports of the Southern Nelson was arrested for stealing a horse States. Fifty-nine slave ships, belonged which he had gotten from Martin, and at that time to the little State of Rhode which Martin had stolen. Both were Island. Some of the largest fortunes bound over to Court. Nelson divulged which have descended to her citizens were the names of about fity herse-thieves created by this traffic; and but a few years ago there were men living in that Tippecance counties. A number of those State, among the honored and wealthiest of the inhabitants, who had been active Lafayette, and are men hitherto unparticipants in the trade, or owned the ships that carried the human cargoes One of her Senators in Congaess, as late as 1826 or 1828, commenced his life as a slaver between the coast of Africa and the West India Islands; and he had ships engaged in it till the trade was suppress ed by law-if not afterwards also. He died but a few years ago, bequeathing a fortune of millions to his children, who are at this day classed in the highest ranks of society. These facts exhibit the extraordinary revolutions of public opinion from one generation to another, and prove how much the prevailing opinions of the world modify our moral sentiments

HENDERSON .- Nearly all the streets in this pleasant sister city, are being newly graded and side walks laid, which will add much to the attractiveness of the town, and bring its beautiful daughterin charming clusters more frequently upon the public promenades. The lady had mistaken him for "dear cousin Charlie," while he, with a half defined recollection of having seen her before, went in lemons and "got squeezed." Their mutual embarrassment upon the discovery of the mistake, can well be imagined.

The African Slave Trade.

From various indications in Europe the idea of supplying the West Indies with free labor from Africa, is silently and surely making its progress. We venture to predict that in ten years, African slave trade will be more active than it was in the 17th century .-It appears from the London Mercantile Gazette that the new supplies of negroes our telegraphic column at 18%. Pennto be furnished by the French government had began to arrive at Martinique. It also appears that the French govern ment has been for some years carrying on the same trade in African labor, from Madagascar to the isle of Bourbon, and hat the vessels employed have been fallen in with by British cruisers, but not molested they "having a government officer on board, who made no secret of his occupation."

Horse THIEVES .-- The Wabash valley seems filled with horse thieves and coun terfeiters, this season. The Lafavette in Fountain, Warren, Montgomery and implicated in his confession reside suspected of crime. But little reliance is placed upon his statements.

WHEAT .- At Princeton, wheat sold Friday and Saturday at 85 cents for red, and 95 for white. A good share of the purchases at Princton are shipped East Our mills are giving 90 cents for white wheat and 80 cents for red.

At Muncie, in this State, the millers have adopted the following scale in the purchase of wheat:

The Fort Snelling Swindle. The Utica Herald has been looking up the Congressional record of the clause in the last Military Appropriation bill under which the Country has been done out of nearly a million dollars in the sale of the Fort Snelling Reservation. The result is most instructive The clause was first reported to the Senate on the 2d of March last-the day before Congress adjourned-by Mr. Weller, of California, chiefs, Hats, Caps, Trunks and Vallees, at greatly refrom the Military Committee. It was rushed through each House without discussion, consideration, or a clear understanding of its character. Here is a speci-

Since that time, of course, many military posts have become wholly aseless to the Govern-ment, and this amendment is to sell them. "Mr. Bright-At public or private sale?

"Mr. Weller-At PUBLIC SALE. "Upon this statement, the Senate agreed to the amendment. The law of 1819 contains no provision for public sale; yet the precedent has been fer such sale almost if not quite uniformly. Mr. Weller's statement was that the amendment provided to sell at public sale; and this was false. Upon his tatement, cleverly drawn out by Senator Bright, the clause was inserted. Having been so passed, there was more than usual force to be given to the precedent of selling being a universal fact, precaution should be taken in such sites by auction; but this first sale, in regard to diet during the warm weather, and in view view when the clause was enacted, violates of the beneficial results in the use of Dr. J.
